Summary

Bucks House is a truly unique opportunity to acquire a partially converted church with full planning consent into ten luxury Central Douglas apartments over four floors with a gross development value in excess of £3m.

Offered for sale at a firm £1m, plus the retention of one completed apartment, this would suit a developer seeking to continue the extensive high specification works carried out to date to create a landmark and 'one of a kind' building situated close to the Douglas business district, town centre and all of its amenities.

Building features include stunning internal architectural archways, striking stain glassed windows including a unique feature window, bell tower, lift shaft and many others. The current owner has commenced a redevelopment program committing significant spend to high quality materials and craftsmanship. Development work to date includes a newly insulated roof, external stonework, joists, window lintels ensuring the building is both secure and fully water tight.

Building materials already acquired will be included in the sale, and there is the option to hire the current owners equipment as required. The garaging on the lower ground floor houses nine covered parking spaces with the option to create additional external spaces within the property boundary.

Bucks House is a conservation property. Architects drawings, costings to date and additional information about the property are available to interested parties by contacting Plum Properties.
