LOCATION

Edgeway is situated in a prime position along the Bridgnorth Road. Backing onto woodland and facing open farmland the property gives a rural feel yet commuting is made easy by road and rail, with Stourbridge Junction Station only a short drive away. The property fringes countryside and is within an easy walk of Stourbridge Rugby Club and Wollaston Lawn Tennis Club plus the historic village of Kinver being within a couple of miles.

Approximately 1.9 miles North West of Stourbridge centre and well placed for amenities in Stourbridge, Wollaston and Kinver together with good road access to Wolverhampton, Worcester and the wider West Midlands Conurbation. Edgeway is a short drive into Stourbridge and local villages such as Kinver offer a good range of shops and general amenities. The area offers good scope for walking and riding and Kinver Edge is just a few miles away which consists of about 300 acres of parkland given to the National Trust in 1917. The area is well served for schools including Heathfield and Oldswinford Hospital School, King Edwards V1 College just a few minutes' drive away. The popularity of the area owes much to the convenient location. Local towns such as Stourbridge, Bromsgrove, Kidderminster and Wolverhampton are all within easy reach and Junction 3 of the M5 motorway lies about nine miles distant. This connects with the M42 which in turn leads onto the M40, the principal route to London from the West Midlands. To the north of the M5 good access can be gained onto the M6 whilst central Birmingham, about 15 miles distance is quickly accessed by the A456

Delightful countryside on the doorstep extends South and West affording a huge range of beautiful walks and rambles as well as access to many of the pretty and historic villages that extend around North Worcestershire, South Staffordshire and Shropshire.

The local canal network is just a short distance to the rear and offers excellent recreational walking, running and cycling routes.

DESCRIPTION

Boasting a prime position along this much loved road, Edgeway enjoys a generous and mature plot with privacy and splendid outlook to both the front and rear. The gardens back onto woodland whilst the front overlooks open farmland, giving the property a semi rural feel.

The original property has been transformed into a showcase of light and tastefully styled interior design featuring stylistic characteristics typical of the period which remain appealing to this day. The generous accommodation is arranged over two floors and there is the opportunity for the incoming purchasers to either reconfigure or extend (subject to planning permission). The house has natural light running throughout and the contemporary finish blends seamlessly with the charm and character creating a versatile and welcoming family home, a real gem that is sure to delight.

ACCOMMODATION

Guest Cloakroom with tiled flooring and striking feature wall.

Sitting Room
An elegant double aspect reception room with solid wood floor, with log burning stove as the main focal point.

Formal Dining Room
Another substantial reception room with striking black stone fire surround and original features including, ceiling rose, picture rail and ornate coving.

Kitchen/Family Room
The open plan kitchen, dining, family room at the back of the house is superb and the perfect space for large scale entertaining, a wonderful light and airy space overlooking the gardens, bi-fold doors open onto a large outside decked area perfect for bringing the outside in.

The solid wood cabinets are painted in Farrow & Ball Hague Blue, the butlers sink has a grooved solid wood drainer and there is a built in dishwasher beneath. A feature brick recess provides space for a large range style cooker and there is space for both a fridge freezer and washing machine. Centrally there is a space for a large table and chairs, whilst the family area has a charming log burner style electric fire with cupboards to either side.

Upstairs there are three excellent bedrooms, off a lovely landing with dual aspect, an original stained glass window at the front is another example of the character and charm the house has to offer. There is an opportunity to split the large master bedroom into two rooms if purchasers wished to create a fourth bedroom with space on the landing to breakthrough, thus creating two good sized bedrooms leaving the excellent sized second bedroom to become the master. The bedrooms are all generous sized and light and airy, enjoying the open views the property features. A fabulous house bathroom which was refitted by the current owners features a contemporary roll top bath, Neptune his and hers basins on a marble top vanity unit and large open shower with dual showerheads.

There is a double garage which can be accessed also directly off the kitchen, there is plumbing and power and could be converted to create a laundry room. There is also an inspection pit within the garage.

OUTSIDE

The house is set well back from the Bridgnorth Road behind a hedged foregarden with gravelled driveway providing parking for a number of vehicles.

With gated side access, gently terraced on three levels with lawn, shrubs and being very private and secluded. A generous decked area immediately adjacent to the house is a lovely entertaining space off the kitchen. To the side there is a formal lawned area, with steps gently leading to a further lawn with vegetable garden beyond. There is also a summer house. To the rear of the garden there is a pedestrian access to Prestwood Drive,
