Location

Ideally nestled between the West End, the City, King's Cross and Old Street, Clerkenwell has for centuries been one of London's most vital and creative neighbourhoods. It has been the place for coffee shop intrigue and manufacturing innovation, craftsmanship and carousing, radical ideas and groundbreaking architecture. And still is.

It is home to Clerkenwell Green and Charterhouse Square, to the Barbican, St. John's restaurant and Whitecross Street Market. It is a hub for tech and media companies, creative studios, architectural practices and design stores.

It is now being transformed as new towers rise along City Road, the influence of Old Street Roundabout spreads and the redevelopment of Smithfield Market is on the way.
