A bright, modern dining room with a wooden dining table and bench, a white kitchen unit, and large windows. The room features light-colored walls, a wooden floor, and a large window with a view of the outdoors. A white kitchen unit is visible on the left, and a wooden dining table with a bench is in the center. A large window on the right side of the room provides natural light. A black metal lantern-style light fixture hangs from the ceiling. A round clock and a framed picture are on the wall. A white high chair is positioned near the window. A white door with a glass panel is on the left, leading outside. A white storage unit is on the right.
