Stunning semi-detached three-bedroom home on the edge of Ninfield with far-reaching views, a separate studio above the carport with bathroom and shower, and a thoughtfully designed interior. A flexible and well-finished property, that feels like a detached home in a quiet rural setting.

Located on the rural edge of Ninfield, close to the Catsfield border, this unique home offers well-balanced living space, extensive countryside views and a self-contained studio above a timber-framed carport. The property has been updated with care and includes flexible layouts both inside and out.

The ground floor centres around a smart shaker-style kitchen, fitted with Dekton worktops, a butler sink, and a range cooker with induction hob. It opens into a dining area with built-in seating (and storage), and connects to a warm and welcoming living and dining space with a working open fireplace and deep windows overlooking the front garden.

Upstairs in the main house are three double bedrooms, including a principal suite with an en-suite bathroom featuring a roll-top bath, walk-in shower, and tall windows that help maximise the impressive views. A second en-suite and a family bathroom serve the remaining bedrooms, and there is an additional ground floor shower and WC.

The garden has been landscaped to create several usable zones, including a large lawn, dining terrace, hot tub platform, and raised bar seating. Beyond the garden, the oak-framed carport includes a ground floor store and an upper-level studio with its own en-suite — ideal for guest use, home working or therapy space.

Set back from the road with a private driveway, the property is quietly positioned but remains within easy reach of Battle, local schools, and countryside walking routes.
