The property has undergone substantial extension, now comprising four bedrooms, including a master with an en-suite, and one currently utilized as a home office. There are two reception rooms and, in addition to the en-suite, there is a further bathroom and an extra WC. The bedrooms are equipped with built-in wardrobes, and the house features a spacious modern kitchen. The dining room opens up to the garden through large bifold doors, and the property benefits from air conditioning. Outside, the rear garden features a pergola, while the front includes a garage and a driveway capable of accommodating multiple cars.

Henfield's vibrant High Street boasts an array of amenities, including supermarkets, butchers, bakers, greengrocers, ironmongers, and various independent retail outlets. The village is home to doctors, dental surgeries, and a leisure center. Regular bus services connect to Brighton & Hove, Worthing to the south, and Horsham to the north. Henfield also provides direct access to some of the county's most picturesque countryside for leisurely walks.
