A lovely three bedroom cherished park home, situated on a park development in keeping with the local environment and forming part of a wildlife haven rather than a traditional lodge park of tarmac and concrete with no private space. A big vote of confidence was given by Professor David Bellamy, international botanist and environmental campaigner, the site owners John and Barbara incorporated his design suggestions and planting scheme to attract wildlife.

The lodge offers generous accommodation and comprises: entrance hall, large open plan sitting room/ dining area and fitted kitchen, double doors leading on to a timber decked sun terrace for those alfresco evenings, inner hall, principal bedroom with dressing room and en-suite shower room, bedroom 2 (double), bedroom 3 (single), house bathroom. Externally car standing area.

Situated close to the renowned North York Moors National Park and the Great Dalby Forest, the popular ancient market towns of Malton, Pickering, Helmsley and Kirkbymoorside. The ancient city of York and coastal resorts of Scarborough, Whitby and Filey are within easy reach by car.
