A great match for families seeking space, flexibility and a peaceful village setting, this well-maintained home provides a layout that works for modern life. With a private garden, practical features and adaptable rooms, it's ready to move into and ideal for long-term living – early viewing is recommended.

Leaden Roding is a sought-after village that blends a rural feel with everyday practicality. Families will appreciate the access to well-rated schools nearby, and there are a number of local shops and amenities within easy reach. The surrounding countryside provides a peaceful backdrop, ideal for walking, cycling and spending time outdoors. Commuters benefit from good links to Chelmsford, Bishop's Stortford, and London via the A120 and M11, while Stansted Airport is also nearby for international travel. Altogether, the location supports a balanced lifestyle for families wanting countryside surroundings without being cut off from services and connections.
