This two-bedroom semi-detached bungalow is ready for you to move into today. When making the move to retirement living, people look for single-level accommodation that's easy to get around, a home that needs no extra work, and a peaceful place to live. This property ticks all these boxes, it's completely ready to go, and nestled in a quiet cul-de-sac for relaxed daily life. The generous 30-foot long drive offers plenty of space for cars or even a motorhome. Bungalows are growing increasingly rare as fewer are built each year, making this well-located home a genuine opportunity in today's market.

For those in retirement, easy access to amenities, green spaces and leisure spots is key – and all are within reach here. A short walk brings you to shops including an award-winning butchers, convenience store and fish and chip shop. Glen Village Green provides outdoor space, while the stunning award-winning Leas Beach is also not far away.
