Situated in Southbourne, this charming three bedroom period house situated only a short walk from shoreline walks in prinstead and a characteristic pub with handy local shops makes for the ideal family home.

Tucked away from the main road in the heart of Southbourne, this charming period-style property is brimming with character and original features. From elegant picture rails and high skirting boards to decorative ceiling roses and sash windows, the home exudes timeless appeal. The warm and welcoming atmosphere is further enhanced by beautiful wood-burning stoves, perfect for cosy evenings in.

Just a short stroll from the picturesque Prinsted shoreline, the property enjoys a peaceful yet convenient setting, close to popular local pubs and a well-loved farm shop that draws visitors from near and far. While the home would benefit from some modernisation, it presents a fantastic opportunity for new owners to add their own style and create a space tailored to their taste.

Inside, the layout follows the classic structure of these older homes, with separate living and dining rooms offering defined spaces for entertaining and relaxation. To the rear, the kitchen leads to a further reception room, which could be adapted for a variety of uses, from a home office to a breakfast room or snug.

Upstairs, there are three generously sized bedrooms, each capable of accommodating a double bed, along with a family bathroom. Outside, the rear garden is a real highlight—an excellent size and mostly laid to lawn, bordered by mature shrubs. It offers a private and tranquil outdoor space for gardening enthusiasts or those simply looking to enjoy time outside.

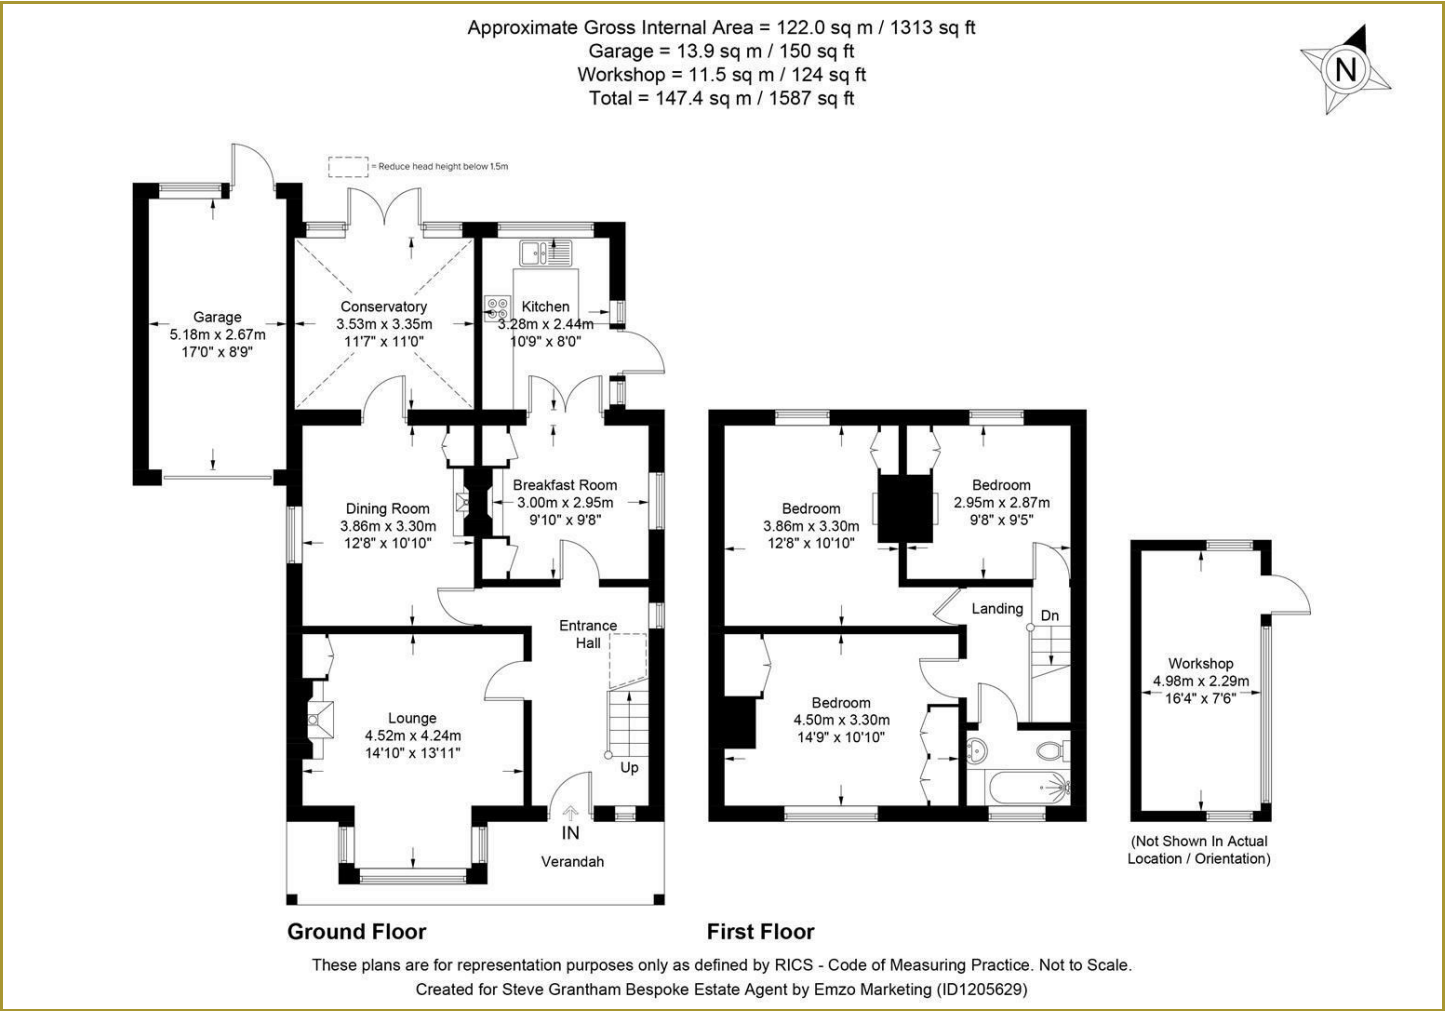

This is a rare opportunity to own a home full of character in a desirable coastal location, with the added bonus of being able to modernise to your own vision.
