Tucked away on the charming Nene Terrace Road in the picturesque village of Crowland, Peterborough, this delightful end-terraced cottage blends historic character with generous modern living. Originally three separate farmers' cottages dating back to the early 1800s, the property has been thoughtfully combined and transformed into a spacious, welcoming family home. Inside, the accommodation unfolds with an impressive three reception rooms, offering plenty of versatility for relaxing, dining, working from home, or entertaining guests. Two well-equipped kitchens make cooking for family gatherings or dinner parties a breeze, while four comfortable bedrooms provide peaceful retreats for every member of the household, the fourth bedroom is currently set up as a study/office. The home also features two bathrooms, one of which is the principal bathroom showcasing a deep roll-top bath – a perfect spot to unwind after a long day. Many original features remain intact, including charming traditional latch doors, a cosy log-burning stove and an open fire, both of which add to the home's inviting warmth and period character. Outside, the property is just as impressive. The rear garden, once three individual plots, has been lovingly merged into one large, west-facing haven. A heart-shaped, crazy-paved patio draped with hanging grapevines and framed by a graceful rose arch makes an idyllic setting for summer afternoons. Garden enthusiasts will appreciate the summerhouse, greenhouse, and productive vegetable garden, all surrounded by mature planting. Practicality is well covered too, with three outbuildings – a utility room, workshop, and storage room – as well as a detached single garage with electric roller doors. The front of the property is equally charming, boasting an enclosed rose garden that sets a warm, welcoming tone. Positioned in a semi-rural setting, the cottage offers the best of both worlds – the peace and beauty of the countryside with easy access to the nearby villages of Thorney and Crowland, and their local amenities. With no forward chain, this remarkable home is ready for its next chapter, offering space, charm, and a wealth of history for its new owners.
