Welcome to Flat 15, a beautifully refurbished residence nestled within the esteemed Cathedral Court on O'Gorman Avenue, Farnborough. This exceptional property combines modern living with rich historical significance, offering a unique opportunity to reside in a landmark setting.

In 2022, Flat 15 underwent a comprehensive renovation, featuring a contemporary kitchen and new flooring throughout. The result is a light-filled, airy space with high ceilings and expansive windows that provide picturesque views over the Heritage Quarter of the private airfield. Cathedral Court, originally known as building Q153, played a pivotal role in aviation history. It housed a 'Cathedral' sized test rig used by the Royal Aircraft Establishment (RAE) to assess aircraft structural integrity, lending the building its distinctive name.

Positioned well away from the main road, Cathedral Court offers a serene environment with minimal traffic, ensuring peace and quiet for its residents. The property includes allocated parking and ample visitor spaces within the Cathedral Court car park, supplemented by general estate parking on Pond Road.

Directly opposite Cathedral Court stands the historic Old Control Tower, now transformed into 'The Hub.' This vibrant business center features the 'Aviators Cafe,' open from 8 am to 3 pm, serving a delightful selection of coffees, sandwiches, paninis, and baked goods. Patrons can relax by the outdoor water fountains while enjoying their refreshments. A short distance away, the Village Hotel offers the Village Gym, boasting a 20-meter heated swimming pool, sauna, jacuzzi, and over 65 exercise classes weekly, catering to diverse fitness preferences.

Embrace the rare chance to own a piece of aviation history combined with modern comforts. Flat 15 at Cathedral Court offers an unparalleled living experience in the heart of Farnborough's Heritage Quarter.

Residents will appreciate the biennial Farnborough International Airshow, a globally renowned event showcasing the latest in aerospace innovation.
