To the rear is a "sheltered" patio area perfect for outdoor dining or entertaining with rockery garden and steps up to the front formal gardens, where there are cleverly planted trees and shrubs, mature hedges and plants, all seem completely colour coordinated as they "appear" throughout the garden.

This leads to a wilderness garden secluded and accessed to the corner where there is an old poly tunnel and wild garden areas which have their own access from the front, a great idea for any planting out or maintenance required.

The second formal garden is laid to lawn with a great selection of plants, shrubs and trees with well established and well stocked borders. On approach to the property the private lane provides access to the neighbouring hamlet residents and there is lots of parking next to the Shippon. To the front there is a stone pathway which then extends around the property to the rear, access here also to the rear wild garden areas.

To the periphery of the grounds there is a fabulous natural woodland where there are trees and shrubs and is great for the wild life in the area, a created pathway then approaches the river side where the outlook is breathtaking, overlooking the river with Brockholes Nature Reserve opposite. In addition to the nature walk and tranquil setting there are also fishing rights at the riverbank.
