Design Statement

The interiors have been sensitively designed to be a modern take on classical design, interior specifications and finishes complement the traditional styling of the external elevations. The implementation of a timeless, neutral colour palette, which flows through the expansive entrance hallways into each of the adjoining rooms creates a cohesive aesthetic.

"We heavily focused on the spatial planning of the interior layouts in the early stages of the design process, to enable us to optimise the use of space by creating 'super-rooms', consisting of an open-plan Kitchen, living and dining room. Each area of the home has been meticulously designed to work with the interior specification and styling."

Within the entrance hallways, we have created a sense of arrival, the spacious hallways are enhanced by the feature hand-painted stairs and traditional wall panelling. Considered focus has been given to the finer details, with the satin nickel ironmongery and an ornate Georgian cornice complementing the interior.

Herringbone patterned timber flooring flows into the drawing room, with vaulted ceilings enhancing the luxurious design. The modern traditional styling continues through the principal dressing rooms with shaker mirrored doors and ornate ironmongery, the styling following through into the principal en-suites. The layering of texture and materials has been employed in the design of the principal en-suites, fluted dark timber vanity units are accented against the soft marble effect porcelain tiling, with striking dark toned feature wall tiles added to the shower. Bespoke mirrors with feature lighting add further layers to the design, the selected sanitary ware is from Villeroy & Boch.

Neutral and soft tones are continued into the secondary en-suites, with timber-fronted vanity units featuring integrated lighting. Further details are added with the selection of large porcelain tiling and mosaic finished wetroom floors.

Enjoy a lush green backdrop.

With the renowned Flich Way right on your doorstep.

Kingswood Chase delivers rural living at its very finest, with some of the region's most attractive parks available for you to explore nearby.

Felsted sits within a patchwork of gently rolling green fields punctuated by magical woods, meandering streams and a network of quiet paths and lanes. On your doorstep is the renowned Flich Way – a beautifully maintained 15 mile public path following the former railway line between Braintree and Bishop's Stortford. Ideal for walkers, cyclists and runners alike, it's the perfect opportunity to soak up the best of the lovely Essex countryside with a convenient rest-stop just four miles away at old Rayne Station's visitor centre and café.

Keen woodland explorers can ramble to their heart's content at Hatfield Forest, near Stansted – just 20 minutes away by car, or cyclable in under 50 minutes on The Flich Way. It's easy to spend hours on walks and picnics amongst the trees, meadows and lakeside paths of this fantastically preserved mediaeval hunting forest, taking in the wildlife and stunning scenery across its 403 hectares.

Or, for an invigorating day out, Great Notley Country Park offers an impressive variety of climbing, swinging and playing areas for children and adults alike across its landscaped glassland, as well as a delightful modern café and activity centre. With every turn of its meandering paths, you'll find even more to discover.

A setting that blends the best of old and new.

Felsted and Little Dunmow are pearls amongst North Essex's charming market towns and pretty villages

The village of Little Dunmow is a small settlement with a huge depth of heritage. Its parish church is the last proud aspect of an Augustinian priory, while several venerable thatch-roofed houses from the 14th to 17th centuries line the village's pretty lanes, including the characterful Flich of Bacon pub – now home to some excellent fine dining.

Nearby, Flich Green hosts a modern Co-op supermarket, primary school, community hall and take-aways only a couple of minutes' drive from home. And it's not just about the practicalities – you'll also find local recreation grounds, woodland walks and waterside pathways to enjoy all year round.

The quintessential Essex market town of Great Dunmow is a thriving historic centre with so much to offer. Just the other side of the A120, Little Dunmow's big sister is a town for the finer things in life.

A flourishing commercial centre in mediaeval times, its historic buildings and wealth of cosy boutiques and eateries make an exquisite backdrop for numerous events drawing people from all over the region throughout the year, such as the glorious Summer Carnival and Fairs at the Arts Centre.

A place to stay active, fit and fun.

The communities around Felsted contain plenty of opportunities for the whole family to stay healthy.

Locally, Fitch Green Community Hall is home to a variety of clubs and classes, from Karate to Zumba, Indoor Football, Dance and high-intensity Bounce sessions on Mondays. Less than a mile and a half away, Felsted School sports centre is also equipped with a 25-metre pool, squash courts and a modern gym, all of which are open for residents to use through flexible and competitive member rates.

Four miles from home, the popular Great Dunmow Leisure Centre punches well above its weight with a pool, gym, badminton, squash and tennis courts, and studios for classes from spinning to yoga and more. It's also equipped with a café and crèche to give busy parents the chance to work out and chill.

Golf lovers have a choice from several well-respected courses in the region. Closest is the Little Channels Golf Centre just to the north of Chelmsford, eight miles away, which features beautifully manicured greens and what some locals describe as the best driving range in the area. South of Braintree, the Notleys Golf Club is well-liked for its undulating fairways, while Braintree Golf Club itself is highly favoured for its idyllic countryside location just off the A120 eastbound.

With personal fitness and running on the rise everywhere, you might also like to pitch in at local Parkrun events at either Great Notley Country Park or Hatfield Forest. Both of which offer impressive surroundings for the 5K run, which is only as competitive as you want it to be.

A place to nurture the next generation.

With Felsted School – one of North Essex’s most prestigious independent educational establishments on your doorstep – as well as many impressive parks and community amenities nearby, Kingswood Chase offers superb opportunities for a happy and fulfilling childhood.

It’s reassuring to know first-class childcare is easily on hand when you need it. Less than a mile and a half away, the village of Felsted is centred around the halls and grounds of its prestigious independent school, founded in 1564 and renowned for providing an exceptional standard of education to produce entrepreneurial, independent, self-starting individuals. Felsted School offers boarding and day attendance for children from pre-prep through to sixth form, and received the highest grade of ‘Excellent’ from the Independent Schools Inspectorate for both academic achievement and personal development.

Those with younger families will be pleased to see Felsted Little Acorns Pre-school just across the village, rated ‘Good’ by Ofsted and known locally for its caring staff and confident, happy children. Conveniently opposite is Felsted Primary School, which has enjoyed an excellent reputation for many years under its current head and was rewarded with an ‘Outstanding’ rating from Ofsted. Alternatively, the modern Flich Green Academy is just a half-mile walk from home, rated ‘Good’ by Ofsted and noted for its pupils’ positive attitude.

For secondary education, Helena Romanes School and Sixth Form in Great Dunmow has earned a fantastic reputation for its strong sense of values and rigorous curriculum. However, with Chelmsford just over 10 miles away, the exceptional standard of education offered at both King Edward VI Grammar School and Chelmsford County High School for girls – both rated ‘Outstanding’ across the board by Ofsted – will offer your children the best foundation for a successful life.

Cosmopolitan destinations are within easy reach of home.

Nestled within the countryside but enjoying excellent travel connections, you'll never be far from all the towns and attractions nearby.

Just 15 minutes away by car, Braintree offers a delightful blend of historic architecture, modern day shopping and beautiful public parks. Within its centre you'll find a welcome mix of familiar high street names, cheerful independent boutiques and salons, major supermarkets, pubs and restaurants to suit every taste. Its out-of-town Braintree Village retail park also hosts over 70 designer outlets and popular eateries – while foodies will love the quality restaurants in the area such as The House in the town centre or 47 The Street in Rayne.

Less than ten miles south of Little Dunmow, Chelmsford offers all the delights of the city within arm's reach. Its pedestrianised centre is home to chic riverside bars, international eateries, two indoor malls, a colourful indoor market, the vibrant Civic Theatre and a host of upmarket designer stores, especially around the revitalised Bond Street quarter. A day in the city can combine anything from waterside walks to delicious meals, theatre visits, coffees with friends and hours of retail therapy all in the space of a square mile.

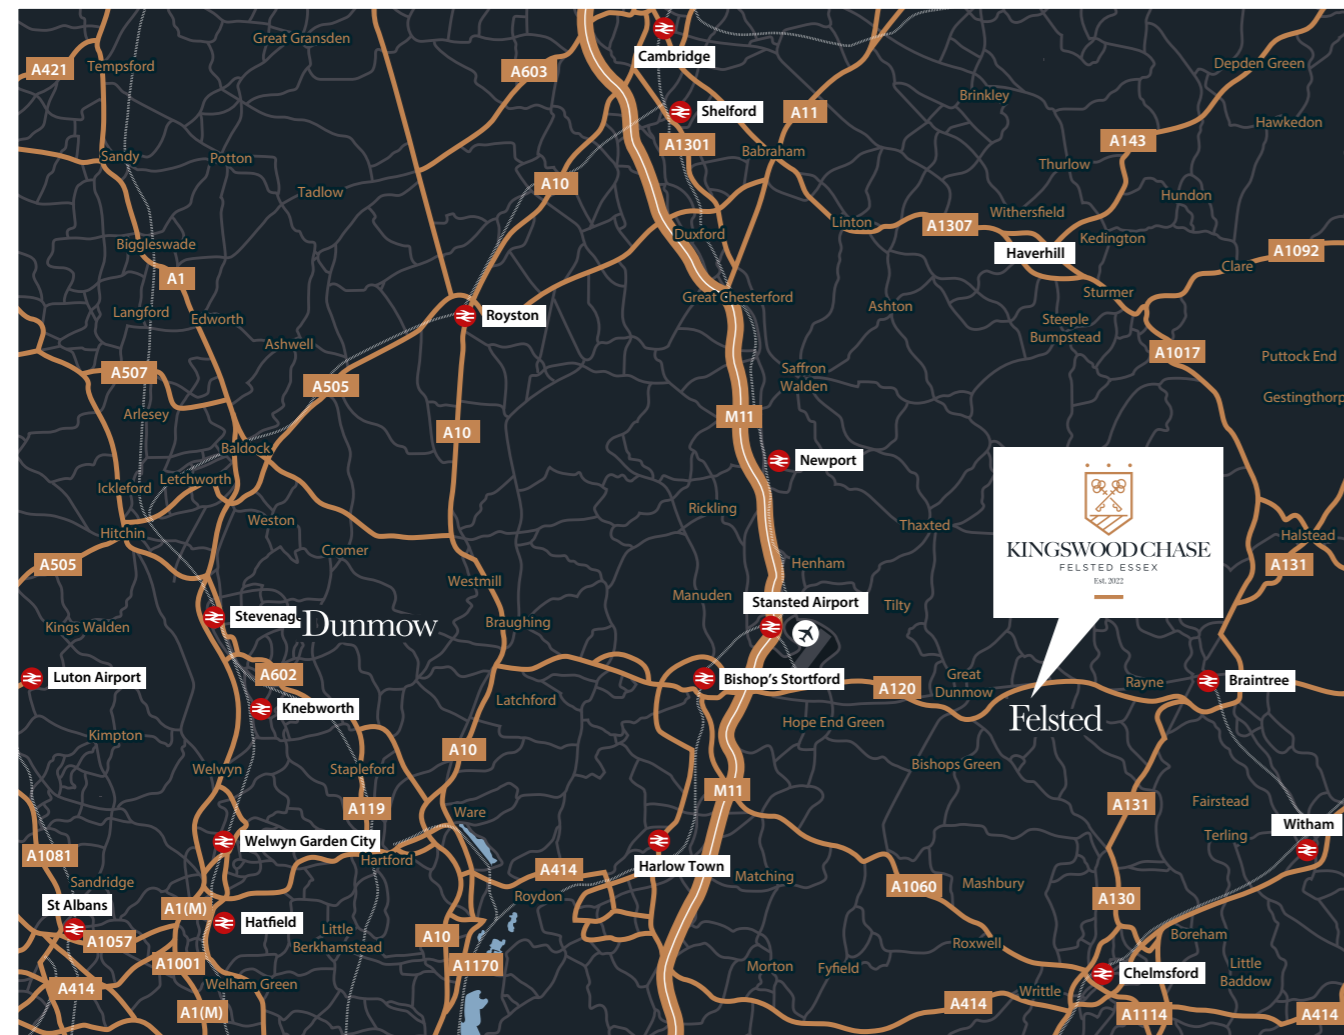

For those residents who love to shop in our world famous capital, the impressive Westfield Shopping Centre can be reached by rail in less than 25 minutes from Chelmsford Station. Emerging from the station, it's just a few steps towards either the purpose built shoppers' paradise, with its three floors of flagship stores, exclusive brands and household names – or the expanse of the Olympic Park, where you'll find world-class sports facilities and modern entertainment venues alongside exceptional landscaped gardens and peaceful canal-side walks.

If you're in the mood for a day immersed in history, then Bishop's Stortford is your first port of call, just the other side of the M11. Effortlessly combining its mediaeval heritage with contemporary amenities and a wide range of stores, the town's picturesque streets and period architecture hold something for everyone – from familiar brands to unique boutiques, cosy coffee shops and a selection of friendly eateries.
