PLANNING

The local planning authority is Buckinghamshire Council. The property was previously within the Aylesbury Vale district before five local authorities were merged into one local authority. Therefore, some Aylesbury Vale District planning policy documents are still relevant, such as the Vale of Aylesbury Local Plan 2013-2013, and Aylesbury Town Centre Plan dated 2012

Buckinghamshire Council is at an early stage of preparing a draft Local Plan and consulted in its vision and objections in June 2023. It has also produced an Aylesbury Garden Town Masterplan dated July 2020.

The Vale of Aylesbury Local Plan acknowledges that Aylesbury is the county town of Buckinghamshire and has long being the focus of new development in Aylesbury Vale and will continue to be the main location for growth in its role as a Garden Town; part of the vision for Aylesbury Garden Town is that by 2033, Aylesbury will have a thriving and revitalised town centre. It will have an enhanced environment, with shops, leisure facilities, open space, homes, businesses and services, built and design to high standards, bringing renewal to the town and enhancing the attraction of the historic core.

As Aylesbury continues to remain the main focus for housing and employment growth in Aylesbury Vale this will help underpin demand for retail uses in the town centre, notwithstanding competing local centres such as High Wycombe and Bicester. Moreover, the Plan provides for delivery of at least 16,207 new homes through a number of allocations as well as new employment development within enterprise zones and employment sites.

Within the policies map the property is classified as 'secondary shopping frontage' within the 'primary shopping area' of Aylesbury Town Centre.

The property is also within an area allocated for 'town centre redevelopment' (Policy D8) for mixed use redevelopment based principally on retail uses with an element of residential and other town centre uses at an appropriate scale and location. This allocation covers much of the land north and south of High Street.

Recent planning history

Planning consent was recently granted on the retail unit to extend Sunday opening hours to allow 24 hour trading (removal of condition 4 relating to application 03/03135/APP granted on appeal ref: APP/JO405/A/85/034524).
