DEVELOPMENT OPPORTUNITY

Mulburries are excited to welcome this colossal five bedroom detached character home to the market in the old town area of Hemel Hempstead

The corner plot, which covers just shy of 2400 internally square feet without the loft space, is a blank canvass for a residential buyer to create something very special. The structure itself, the height of the rooms, the multiple bay windows throughout mean that despite the current condition of the property it is not difficult to envisage once restored to its former glory, the unique property any buyer will have on their hands.

Equally, this is a massive opportunity for a developer to take this large plot and redevelop it into 8-12 flats (subject to planning permission). There is ample recent local history to suggest that planning permission for a development like this will be granted. Please contact us for more details.
