Built in 1860, this beautifully presented four-bedroom detached house in Boxmoor offers a rare blend of historical charm and modern practicality. Spanning approximately 1,360 sq ft, the property showcases a wealth of original features alongside versatile living spaces. Upon entry, you are welcomed by two elegant reception rooms, both boasting feature fireplaces. The fitted kitchen, featuring an original brick oven surround, is paired with a separate utility room providing a practical and stylish space. The ground floor also benefits from a versatile double bedroom with a modern ensuite shower room, ideal for guests, multigenerational living, or use as a study. A downstairs cloakroom adds everyday convenience.

Several rooms throughout the home feature dual aspect windows, enhancing the light and spacious feel, while original period features – including flooring and fireplaces – highlight the home's heritage. Leading from an open and airy landing, there are two further spacious double bedrooms and an additional single bedroom/study.

A key asset of the property is the full-width basement, offering excellent storage or potential for further development. Outside, a large, beautifully landscaped rear garden provides a peaceful setting for family life, relaxation, and entertaining. The home benefits from recently installed boiler, ensuring modern heating efficiency and peace of mind for years to come. The driveway comfortably accommodates two larger cars providing useful off-street parking.

Located in easy walking distance from Hemel Hempstead Station, with fast rail links to London, the property is also within perfect reach of local amenities including the charming Boxmoor village and cricket ground. The oversubscribed Hemel Hempstead School is just a short walk away.

This distinctive and character-filled home, set in one of Boxmoor's most desirable streets, offers a unique opportunity to own a period property with all the benefits of modern family living.
