SITUATION

Porthleven is a charming unspoilt fishing village offering a range of local facilities including a fine array of shops, restaurants and inns. At low tide it is possible to walk along the beach to Loe Bar with its lake of freshwater held behind. Porthleven is also situated on the coastal path and from here the route passes both west and east enjoying some of the most scenic and captivating views in the county.

The market town of Helston is approximately two miles away being renowned for its Flora Day. The town stands at the gateway to The Lizard Peninsula and offers a comprehensive range of amenities including a fine array of interesting shops, a wealth of traditional inns together with schooling, leisure and recreational facilities

THE PROPERTY

Tregarthen is a recently renovated, and immaculately presented detached family home offering a modern light and spacious accommodation.

The ground floor entrance approaches the central entrance hall of which leads to all primary rooms. A standout feature of the property is its open plan modern kitchen & dining area creating the much desired 'living kitchen' ideal for modern family living and entertaining. The dining room leads through to a spacious conservatory enjoying views across the private garden, adding a degree of flexibility to the accommodation.

The sitting room, is a superb, light and welcoming reception room with sliding doors giving access to the south facing front garden and seating area, adding versatility to the property's layout, which is key when appreciating its coastal location.

A central corridor leads to a spacious master bedroom with a well appointed shower room, the family bathroom and a further double bedroom with views to the front and an additional bedroom currently used as an office.

We are advised that conditional planning has previously been granted on this property in 2016, for the "erection of front dormer windows, rear roof lights and construction of a front porch in association with a loft conversion" This has now lapsed but purchasers can find more information on the Cornwall Council planning portal using the reference PA16/02909.

OUTSIDE

The outside space is a standout feature of the property, with well-established private gardens at both the front and rear.

The rear garden includes a manicured lawn, beautifully maintained flowerbeds, and a greenhouse. A patio area to the front provides an ideal spot for al fresco dining and outdoor relaxation.

The property also benefits from a double garage, equipped with an electric, remote-controlled roll-up door, with windows offering views to the side and rear. The garage is fully powered and complete with plumbing, providing additional practicality and storage options and a handy utility space.
