Home of the White Horse...

in the historic market town of Westbury

Westbury is a bustling market town located below a vast chalk escarpment on the western edge of Salisbury Plain. There is a rich local heritage, dominated by the iconic White Horse carved into the hillside just a couple of miles to the east. The town also enjoys a range of modern shops and amenities around the busy High Street and beyond.

Ancient Roots

Westbury retains a footprint of history from the Iron Age through to the Industrial Revolution with a strong background in cloth manufacturing, glove-making and iron ore production. In 878AD, legend has it that King Alfred defeated the Danes at nearby Bratton Camp at the Battle of Ethandun and sowed the seeds of what we know today as England. When King Gunthrum surrendered, victorious Alfred came down the hill and passed through the town where the street still bears his name. Some 900 years later the locals carved a huge white horse on the soft chalkland to commemorate the victory - the oldest and largest of the eight white chalk horses in the county.

Historic Wiltshire

This area is brimming with history. Wiltshire is home to the Stonehenge and Avebury stone circles and these outstanding prehistoric monuments have World Heritage Site status. There are many stately homes in the county, including Longleat, Stourhead House and Gardens and Bowood House. The quintessential Wiltshire village of Lacock, owned by the National Trust, looks much like it did 200 years ago. The nearby city of Bath has been a wellbeing destination since Roman times.

Local Facilities

In Westbury itself you can find a host of shops and amenities including several large supermarkets, a number of newsagents and convenience stores as well as the usual coffee shops and cafes together with a Boots pharmacy, but additional options can also be found in the nearby towns of Frome, Trowbridge and Warminster just a short drive away.

There are a number of good education options in Westbury including six primary schools within two miles of Heron Rise. Secondary provision is catered for within the town and also in nearby Trowbridge and Warminster. There is easy access to nearby private schools.

The centre of town is also home to one of the longest serving swimming pools in the country. Built by Westbury Mill owner WH Laverton to mark Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee, Westbury Swimming Baths were opened in 1888 and retain a unique charm, thanks to the traditional Victorian architecture.

Transport Links

Thanks to excellent transport links, Bristol, Bath and Swindon are commutable and Westbury Station (less than 10 mins on foot) provides a rail service to Bath Spa (24 mins), Bristol Temple Meads (40 mins), Swindon (42 mins) and direct to London Paddington, via Reading, (less than 90 mins).

Sustainable living

There is evidence to show that our climate is changing due to a combination of physical and human factors. At Newland Homes, we want to encourage our homeowners' aspirations to live both sustainably and stylishly.

Our approach

We live up to our company's core values: we are Considerate of the environment; Conscientious in our role; and we therefore have a responsibility to Craft homes which are attractive, durable, efficient (both in construction and in use) and comfortable.

This is our promise as a sustainable developer. Each development starts with a comprehensive assessment. Our in-house team commissions specialists to assess the existing ecological habitat – the flora and fauna – even in urban areas, so we can strive to ensure that a development protects and enhances important features and wildlife. We introduce sustainable storm drainage solutions that do not increase flood risk, and commonly produce ecological benefits.

We also consider the landscape context and visual impact, so homes are positioned to enjoy natural features, views and sunlight. Only once we have the full story of a site, can we properly start to design each individual home.

Embracing the future

We adopt a 'fabric first' philosophy to the way we build our homes. This means that the better the insulation, construction, ventilation, and detailed design, the more efficiently and comfortably your home will operate, saving money in the long term and keeping your carbon footprint low. Our homes have:

- Traditional masonry or timber framed construction, with highly efficient thermal insulation to walls, floors and roof

- Double glazed windows with innovative coatings to minimise heat loss and reduce summer overheating
- Highly efficient gas condensing boilers. We have also installed air source heat pumps on some of our sites as a means to avoid fossil fuel use, and we continue to explore the use of this and other low carbon products
- Low energy LED downlighters and motion detector lighting, as well as A++ rated fitted appliances. All designed to minimise electricity use and be lighter on your pocket
- Dual flush toilets and water saving aerated taps as standard, which use less water but maintain pressure

Our homes are built to achieve and often exceed the latest construction requirements, without compromising on their good looks. All timber used in our homes is from certified sustainable sources. Any suitable demolition material from clearing a site is crushed, re-used and recycled on site, and construction waste is sorted to maximise re-use.

Building sustainability into our homes

The way we live in our homes is rapidly evolving and Newland Homes is embracing technological opportunities to make our homes more convenient, comfortable and economic to run. Our home is no longer just a place to sleep and eat, but also to work. Remote working is on the increase, reducing the need to travel to a place of work.

Newland Homes helps to facilitate this sustainable choice and wherever possible, our homes are provided with a Superfast Fibre Broadband connection with at least two data sockets within the property. We include smart meters in many of our homes. These help you to monitor and efficiently manage your household electricity use, as well as allowing the electricity supply grid to function more effectively. The next logical step is Smart Home Automation.

Our communities

Sustainable development is often defined as development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs. We take a long-term view with all our sites and our aim is always to enhance the communities in which we build.

We invest in the community infrastructure, and crucially, build homes that people want to live in, for now and for many years to come. As technology and its take-up improves, we expect to deliver more homes that are ever closer to carbon neutral.

We hope to share this journey with all our customers, and in all our respective walks of life, to ensure we deliver a future fit for our children, grandchildren and generations to come.

CLIMATE NEUTRAL NOW

In 2021 we signed up to the United Nation's Climate Neutral Now pledge, where we review, monitor and improve our actions on Climate Change annually, and we're delighted that from 1 January 2022 we've been a carbon neutral company.

There is much work involved in continuing the progression of our targets as we introduce processes to make us even more carbon friendly.
