LOCATION

The Alehouse benefits from a prominent frontage to the Gloucester Road A38, within the busy mixed commercial and residential area of Bishopston, adjoining and opposite various small artisan shops, bars, restaurants and coffee shops and is central to the Gloucester Road circuit.

Bishopston and the similar adjoining areas of The Arches, Coltham, Montpelier, St Andrews and Redland, are popular with students and young professionals and provide an immediate local diverse catchment. In addition, the reputation of the Gloucester Road for its range of independent food and drink offerings attracts trade from the whole of Bristol.

Bristol City Centre lies 1 mile to the south, directly accessible via the A38.

DESCRIPTION

The property, which forms part of a parade of shops, is an attractive 3 storey brick building beneath a pitched tiled roof with stone features and mullion windows to the ground floor and with "brewers tudor" features to the upper floors.
