Description

Situated in the village of Fairburn. Overlooking the Fairburn Ings RSBP nature reserve, a series of lakes bounded by trees and marshlands to the south and west. The property stands high up on Beckfield Lane in what can only be described as a supremely enviable position.

The village itself is a hidden gem, which has become a peaceful and tranquil settlement in recent years. There are many areas to enjoy on foot or bicycle. This is particularly notable as the M62 is only a 10 minute drive away at Ferrybridge. Meaning that Leeds and York are both within easy reach.

The house was originally built by the current owners in 1978. Set into the hillside, and laid out over two floors, with the living area being on the second floor which makes best use of space and maximises the opportunity to enjoy the views over Fairburn Ings. The second floor at the moment is being used as a granny flat with a lounge/bedroom, dressing room, with fitted wardrobes, shower, sink and toilet, in the past it has been used as a teenage bedsit, also an office.

The ground floor has 3 bedrooms, with sauna with exercise facilities.

Surrounded by mature trees, with parking at the rear and a garden laid to lawn on the front lower down.

The property absolutely must be viewed to be fully appreciated.
