Description

A rare opportunity to acquire one of the area's prime pieces of real estate. Thought to date back to the Cromwellian era, tucked away in a quiet corner in the charming village of Airmyn. This exquisite detached property which is steeped in history offers a delightful blend of rustic charm and modern living. With four spacious bedrooms, this property is perfect for families seeking a serene retreat in a picturesque rural setting. Part of the original Airmyn Hall and park estate dating back to 1656 when it is thought to have been built by the Smithson family.

As you approach the home, you will be captivated by its stunning external period features, which have been lovingly preserved throughout. The exposed brickwork adds character and warmth, creating an inviting atmosphere that is extremely welcoming. Three reception rooms each have log fires.

Surrounded by lush gardens on all sides, this home provides a tranquil outdoor space where you can unwind and enjoy nature. The gentle sound of the clock tower bell adds to the village's charm, enhancing the peaceful ambiance that this property offers. It also has the most delightful outbuilding which would lend itself to a variety of uses.

This rustic property is far more than a house; it is a home filled with history and character. If you are looking for a unique residence in a delightful rural location, this is an absolute gem off High Street, Airmyn and a must-see.
