GLANBRENIG

Fine and Country West Wales are delighted to offer the iconic Victorian, semi detached villa of Glanbrenig onto the open market.

This six/seven bedroomed commodious residence is set in one of Aberystwyths best roads and enjoys light and spacious accommodation throughout, coupled with excellent parking/garage facilities, coupled with a large and very well maintained rear garden.

This character home offers three large reception rooms, a beautifully refitted kitchen/breakfast room, a downstairs cloakroom, a cellar, and six/seven bedrooms, the master of which enjoys an en suite and dressing room. There is also a refitted family bathroom with a beautiful copper bath.

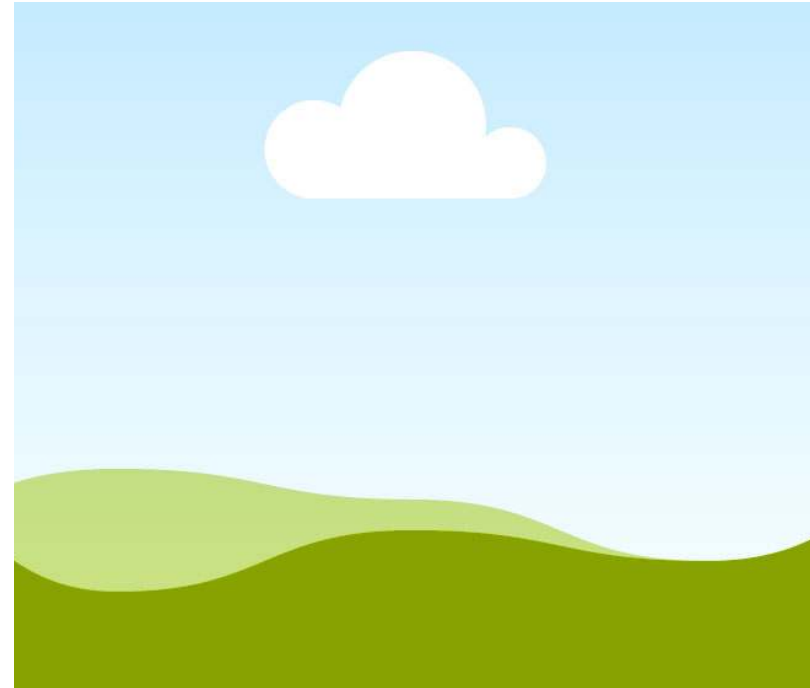

This was once the home of Joseph parry the Welsh musician and composer. There is a plaque outside the property which celebrates his tenure at the property and he was the first professor of music at Aberystwyth University.

Contact Fine and Country West Wales for more information, and an appointment to view this sought after property.
