Exterior

This charming detached three-bedroom bungalow has a quaint, characterful appeal that blends rustic charm with modern convenience. The exterior showcases a combination of whitewashed brick walls and natural stone accents, creating a timeless cottage feel. The roof is steeply pitched with dark, aged slate tiles, adding a touch of elegance and a sense of history. Traditional sash windows with dark wooden frames line the front, each adorned with shutters and flower boxes.

A welcoming porch sits at the entrance, topped by a gabled overhang supported by rustic wooden beams. The front door, painted a cheerful sage green, is accented by polished brass fixtures and framed by climbing ivy that winds its way along the brickwork. Set back from a quiet lane, the bungalow is nestled within a lush garden enclosed by a low, stone boundary wall. The garden is filled with a mix of flowering shrubs, mature trees, and winding stone pathways that lead to a small side patio, perfect for morning coffee or quiet outdoor dinners.

Interior

Inside this charming three-bedroom detached cottage bungalow, traditional warmth meets airy modernity. The living room, with its exposed wooden beams and a stone fireplace, creates a cozy retreat, while deep-set windows flood the space with natural light. Fitted bathroom with panelled bath, pedestal sink and dual flush WC. The country-style kitchen features cream shaker cabinets, butcher-block countertops, and a farmhouse sink positioned beneath a garden-view window, making it both functional and inviting. Flowing from the dining area, French doors lead directly into the conservatory, which stands empty, offering a blank canvas flooded with natural light from its glass walls and ceiling. Built in storage through-out.
