

HOLLY LODGE GARDENS — N6

Guide Price £4,750,000

“I can walk past Downing Street and Admiralty Arch and it doesn't move me one bit, but I can't bear to walk past Holly Lodge Gardens. It's where I brought up the children. It means too much to me”

Edna Healey, author and former owner, 1953-1978
Wife of Dennis Healey, former Chancellor of the Exchequer

HOLLY LODGE GARDENS — N6

Imagine living somewhere so idyllic, a place which balances peaceful seclusion with convenient access to all that London offers, that it becomes your home for over half a century.

Since August 1970, the same family has made The Holly Lodge Estate their home, a striking testament to the location's enduring appeal.

Nestled between Hampstead Heath and Waterlow Park, the estate sits on what was once Thomas Coutts' country retreat, now transformed into an exclusive community of tree-lined streets.

Within this prestigious setting lies Holly Lodge Gardens, an Arts and Crafts-inspired residence offering exceptional living spaces across two floors.

The home's lateral layout provides expansive reception spaces, perfect for both formal entertaining and relaxed family living. Set within generous grounds, mature gardens to both front and rear create leafy aspects from every window.

The property's enviable elevated position next to Hampstead Heath places it just half a mile from Swains Lane's artisanal shops, where residents can enjoy the offerings of local butchers, bakers, greengrocers, fishmongers, and an Italian delicatessen.

Looking to the future, architectural firm O/R Studios have crafted two thoughtful proposals that, subject to planning approval, would ensure this remarkable home is perfectly positioned for the next fifty years of family life.
