Beech Cottage Bibury Road, Cirencester GL7 5AW

Coln St Aldwyns is a charming and peaceful village in the Cotswolds Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, located between Bibury and Fairford, about 9 miles from Cirencester. Known for its honey-coloured stone cottages and historic architecture, including the Norman Church of St John the Baptist, the village offers a quintessential Cotswold setting. Local amenities include the welcoming New Inn pub and the community-run village shop and café, making it a close-knit and sociable place to live or visit. Surrounded by rolling countryside, the area is perfect for walking and outdoor pursuits, with a popular riverside trail linking to nearby Bibury. Further attractions such as Bourton-on-the-Water, Cotswold Wildlife Park, as well as Daylesford and Soho Farmhouse are within easy reach by car. Transport links are good for a rural area, with access to the A40, M4, and nearby rail services from Kemble Station to London. A local minibuss service also connects residents to nearby towns. Though the village itself has no school, Hatherop Castle School is just a mile away, and Cirencester offers a range of both state and private options. Overall, Coln St Aldwyns is ideal for those seeking a tranquil village lifestyle with access to nature, community spirit, and excellent nearby attractions.
