Kingsley Court is a small development of twelve similarly sized freehold houses arranged in three quad groupings. There is a communal parking area to the front, surrounded by planted shrub beds, with each property having their own designated parking bay as well as visitor parking and bin storage.

No.10 is a South-West facing house, benefitting from good natural light. It is very well-maintained and presented in pristine order. The house is attached to neighbours to the side and rear. The accommodation is arranged over two floors and benefits from gas central heating and double glazing throughout.

The private front door opens into a welcoming hallway with parquet wood effect flooring, staircase to first floor landing and a useful built-in storage cupboard.

The beautifully appointed bathroom comprises a panelled bath with shower attachment, WC and a large vanity unit with integrated worktop wash basin. It has tiled walls, a wall-mounted mirror, heated towel rail and an obscured window to the side.
