Taruman, Bradda West Road, Port Erin

Taruman is a beautifully presented Victorian property situated in an elevated position on the outskirts of Port Erin, offering spectacular, uninterrupted coastal views across the bay and out towards the Calf of Man. Rich in character and charm, this spacious family home is set over three floors and blends period elegance with modern practicality.

You are welcomed into the home through a light-filled conservatory entrance hall, which opens via double doors into a central hallway. To the left is the impressive main living room, complete with a striking bay window that frames the panoramic sea views. To the right is a generously sized dining room, which also provides an ideal space for a home office or study area. The dining room leads through to a well-appointed kitchen, which in turn provides access to the private rear garden, perfect for outdoor dining and entertaining.

The first floor hosts the elegant master bedroom, also with a beautiful bay window and commanding sea views. A further double bedroom and a modern shower room complete this level. The second floor provides two additional well-proportioned double bedrooms, along with a contemporary family bathroom.

Outside, the front garden features a lovely paved terrace, ideally positioned to enjoy the exceptional outlook. To the rear is a fully enclosed garden, offering a sheltered and versatile outdoor space. This area also gives access to a separate utility room and a garage, both of which are located to the rear of the property and offer valuable storage and practicality.

This exceptional home is ideally suited to those seeking generous accommodation, historical charm, and some of the finest coastal views the Isle of Man has to offer
