With an enviable location between Pattingham and Tettenhall, Wrottesley Village stands in the heart of the beautiful Staffordshire countryside. In this peaceful, modern village, a great range of local amenities create a strong sense of community. A supermarket, shops, places to eat and three schools are all within easy reach.

It is easy to see why this is such a desirable place to live.

Linked by the River Penk as it flows through the village, the Upper and Lower Lakes are home to a wide range of wildlife and waterfowl.

The rolling green countryside around Wolverhampton is dotted with many walks and interesting places to explore. Take a stroll along the historic Monarch's Way near Wightwick Manor & Gardens and Boscobel House. This long-distance footpath follows the route taken by King Charles II to escape capture following his defeat at the battle of Worcester in 1651 and passes just to the west of Wrottesley Village. You can still visit the famous oak tree in which he hid all those years ago.

The city of Wolverhampton feels a world apart from this quiet setting. In fact, it's so close, it's easy to head to the city for a day out with family or friends, or alternatively, take in an evening's entertainment, perhaps also sampling one of the many restaurants the city has to offer.

ABOUT THE DEVELOPMENT

County Town Homes is collaborating with construction firm S J Roberts on this exciting new community, which has been carefully designed to evoke a sense of space, nature and contemporary living.

You will find a mix of characterful properties ranging from two-bedroom houses and bungalows through to detached family homes.

As you will see straight away, building materials and design features very much reflect the architecture of the surrounding area while at the same time creating something distinctively fresh and modern.

Running through the centre of the village is a beautiful green belt of land with two ponds and plenty of space to play, exercise and unwind.

Many of the homes enjoy views over this area. The village also benefits from footpath access to the adjacent golf club, and to an area allocated for new allotments.

Lush trees and greenery make Wrottesley Village an attractive, healthy environment in which to work or play. This is more than just a place to live – it's somewhere to thrive.
