Air

Manchester Airport is the largest airport outside London, flying to over 25 destinations including four direct flights a week to Hong Kong and 22 flights a week to Dubai. There are direct flights to Abu Dhabi, New York, Beijing and Singapore from operators including Cathay Pacific, Emirates, Qatar and Etihad Airways.

Rail / HS2

London's Airports and a host of other locations are easily accessed by Manchester's excellent rail links. # Arrive At The Many Manchester Attractions Within Minutes

Regent Plaza is located between Manchester City Centre and Salford Media City at Salford Quays. The site is in-between these two commercial centres, with the Chapel Street corridor to the north and Salford Quays to the South West.

Regent Road is the linking arterial route between the Mancunian Way running around the southern half of Manchester City Centre and the M62, with transport links west to Warrington and Liverpool.

Bus and Metrolink

Greater Manchester and the inner city centre are served by an extensive bus and tram network. The tram system has undergone a major overhaul and is now the largest in the UK. Media City UK has a dedicated Metrolink station which connects residents and commuters across Manchester and Salford.

The new Metrolink route connecting Media City UK to the intu Trafford Centre is near completion. The X50 bus also runs regularly providing a connection to the city centre and the Trafford Centre.

Salford - one of the UK's greenest cities

New research has crowned Salford the greenest place to live in England and Wales. The City, part of Greater Manchester, is more sustainable than places such as Brighton, where Caroline Lucas is Britain's only Green party MP, and Bristol, a former European Green Capital, according to a study released by the Centre for Thriving Places.

In this famous corner of the north-west, the council, run by Labour mayor Paul Dennett, is preserving and creating more green space than any other council. The city also has lower-than-average CO2 emissions, lower-than-average energy consumption levels and higher-than-average recycling rates.

The City has invested millions in green infrastructure and embraced the decarbonisation agenda long before it was in vogue. Liz Zeidler, chief executive of the Centre for Thriving Places commented "There have been a lot of innovative things going on in the north-west in terms of participatory democracy, community wealth-building and the environment. Places such as Salford seem to be quite cleverly absorbing these ideas. Its leaders have been willing to try something new and now they are starting to see the results."

The new 154-acre site RHS Garden Bridgewater (pictured here) is due to open in Summer 2020.

Acclaimed as one of the most significant events in the Royal Horticultural Society's 215-year history. Once open, the garden will bring world-class horticulture within an hour's journey of 8.2 million people in the region.

Investment In Manchester

Spinningfields

The Canary Wharf of the North Spinningfields alone provides working space for over 20,000 employees and in recent years has seen the area develop further as a retail and leisure district. Revenue from retail and leisure at Spinningfields increased 400% between 2008 and 2014.

St John's

The success of Spinningfields has inspired further growth and regeneration in central Manchester. The neighbouring area of St John's is now set for extensive redevelopment that will further transform the area. A creative village will be established in the heart of the city.

Middlewood Locks

Strategically located at the Salford gateway to Spinningfields across the River Irwell, Middlewood Locks will transform a 24-acre area, creating a new centre for connectivity, creativity and culture in the heart of the city.

Manchester Investment Case

Manchester's property market is enjoying steady growth, thanks to the swift increase of the city's population and a backlog from several years of a lack of housing supply.

With JLL projecting rent increases of 4.2% across Manchester over the coming five years, and the city being home to one of the highest proportions of private renters in the UK (at 26.85%).

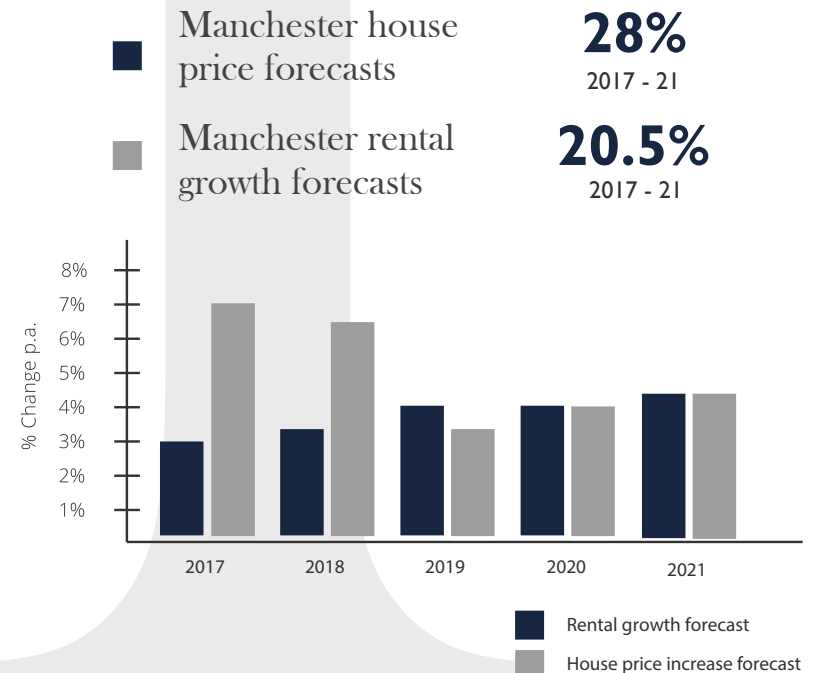

Manchester offers solid credentials as one of the most promising buy-to-let locations in the UK.
