NO UPWARD CHAIN...

This period detached house stands as a testament to history, set back from a shared private driveway, offering both privacy and potential. The property comes with a unique opportunity, as planning permission was previously granted in May 2020 by Nottingham City Council for a separate, brand new three-bedroom detached dormer property, complete with parking. The proposed dwelling, spanning approximately 912 square feet, was designed to stand in front of the existing building, contingent upon the removal of the current garage at the front boundary of Durham Avenue. While the planning permission has since lapsed in May 2023, it presents an intriguing possibility for rejuvenation with the potential for re-submission. The existing house, rich in character, beckons with promise and room for enhancement. A canvas for creativity, the ground floor unfolds with a kitchen, breakfast room, sitting room, and a versatile third reception room that could serve as an additional bedroom. Ascending to the upper floor reveals two bedrooms and a modern bathroom equipped with an electric shower. This residence, with its historical allure, presents an exciting prospect for those seeking a unique project. With ample space for improvement, this property invites a touch of modernisation to unlock its full potential. Notably, the absence of an upward chain adds to the allure of this opportunity, making it an ideal canvas for those looking to craft their dream home in a coveted Nottingham locale.
