INTRODUCTION

Back Track Bothies is situated right in the heart of the popular tourist village of Glenfinnan, known the world over for its outstanding mountain scenery, links with Bonnie Prince Charlie and the Jacobite Rising of 1745 and, of course, the famous 'Hogwarts Express' steam train. The Bothies are also a few minutes walk from all of Glenfinnan's other attractions such as Loch Shiel and the 1745 Rising Monument.

In sight of Ben Nevis and nestling close to various exciting bike trails and walking routes, including the Cape Wrath Trail, these three eco-cabins are the perfect place for guests to base themselves and enjoy everything the Highlands has to offer.

Within a five minute walk to the famous Road to the Isles and its beaches - the A830 trunk road connecting Fort William and the ferry port of Mallaig (ferries to Skye) - there are daily bus and train services close by.

Each of the hand-built bothies offer a warm cosy atmosphere, with their own unique character and individual layouts.

Constructed by a local master craftsman from natural materials including sustainably sourced Douglas Fir timber and sheep's wool insulation, as well as living grass roofs, each eco-cabin offers a sitting area with kitchen, a sleeping area, a shower and a composting/no flush loo.

Each bothy also boasts its own private 'sitooterie' where you can relax round the corten steel fire pit/barbecue and experience the dark skies so popular with star gazers. And on those colder nights, the existing electric heating can be boosted thanks to the cosy state-of-the-art Charnwood log burning stoves.

From a business perspective, Back Track Bothies offers a great opportunity to run a lifestyle business in this busy tourist area which now attracts well over half a million visitors annually.

Boasting a Green Tourism Award, the property, which has its own car parking area and a reed bed, already benefits from a stellar reputation and a loyal customer base, attracting locals and visitors throughout the year.

The attention to detail and charm means the property is attractive to a wide range of customers and is future-proofed thanks to its strong eco-credentials in the fast-growing market for environmental friendly and sustainable stays. The Bothies enjoy year-round bookings and are very popular in winter due to their log burning stoves
