Park Homes
When you own the freehold of a property, you own everything outright, including the land it stands on. Leasehold means that you own both the building and the plot, but for a limited period.

According to the Mobile Home Act 2013, park homes are neither freehold nor leasehold. That's because you are buying just the dwelling itself. The land remains the property of the park owner at all times. As a park home owner, you sign an agreement with the site owner and pay an annual pitch fee. Having separate arrangements for the structure and the land is what makes a park home purchase different from conventional home buying. The site agreement is for a specified period (typically around 70 years). When it expires, you continue to own the park home but you will need to renew the agreement. One result of this is that mortgages are not available for park homes. This is because a mortgage only applies when the purchase includes the land. Your rights are protected

In addition to renting the pitch, you will be paying the site owner a service charge for general upkeep of roads, communal areas and other facilities. Then, there are charges for utilities, such as electricity, gas and water. The site owner often manages these, but there are strict safeguards in place to ensure you only pay a fair market rate if the site owner supplies these services and in some cases, you would be responsible for supplying your own. In fact, your rights are protected in several ways under the 2013 Act. Please enquire and satisfy yourself of the supply to the particular property you are viewing.

All photographic images are under the ownership of Dean Estate Agents Ltd and therefore Dean Estate Agents retain the copyright. You must obtain permission from the owner of the images to reproduce them.

Tenanted Property – we are not always able to show the most recent condition of a property due to tenants' privacy and we may choose to show the photographs of the property when it was last vacant to at least allow clients some idea of the internal condition. Therefore, we would of course, urge you to view before making any decisions to purchase or rent the property and before any costs.

Energy Performance Certificates are supplied to us via a third party and we do not accept responsibility for the content within such reports.

PRC Certificates – Some ex-local authority properties have been repaired in recent years using the PRC Scheme wherein a certificate has been produced by a qualified property engineer. This certificate does not imply the suitability for a mortgage approval and you must satisfy yourself of the work carried out that may meet your lenders criteria.

As with leasehold property or new build development sites, you are likely to be responsible for a contribution to management charges and/or ground rent or a contribution to the development service charge. Please enquire at the time of viewing.

You may also incur fees for items such as leasehold packs and, in addition, you will also need to check the remaining length of any lease before you complete a mortgage application form. Please ask a member of our team for any help required before committing to purchase a property and incurring expense.
