Nestled at the edge of the picturesque village of Longhirst, The South Lodge offers a truly exceptional opportunity to own a piece of architectural history. Originally serving as the gatehouse to the grand Longhirst Hall, this Grade II listed property seamlessly blends period charm and modern comforts. Its handsome pillars and stone wall entrance exudes character, while its tranquil woodland boundaries provide a sense of privacy and serenity.

The South Lodge is situated on a substantial plot that includes approximately two acres of enchanting woodland, offering endless possibilities for enjoyment and exploration and creates a sense of seclusion, enhancing the property's tranquil charm. Beautifully positioned in the woodland is a detached wooden cabin, ideal for use as guest accommodation, a private home office, or even a holiday let.

A positive pre-application response received from Northumberland County Council for a extension to then rear of the property. Further details available on request.

The outdoor areas are equally enchanting, with a built-in BBQ, a greenhouse, and an outhouse equipped with electricity and plumbing for laundry needs. The cabin's open-plan design includes a well-equipped kitchen, living room, a generous shower room, bedroom and a decked area to the front.
