An impressive and dominant three storey Town Centre, town house offered for sale with a grand floor plan of over 3400 sft of living accommodation in addition to gated off road parking and a considerable basement with four rooms that are ripe for conversion for a variety of uses! (stpp)

This impressive and grand family residence occupies a sizeable footprint in central Stowmarket, It is steeped in historical relevance and has a wealth of previous stories. Most notably, the property was a Brewery in the 1800's that made considerable use of the four basement rooms as beer, wine and spirit storage. Currently these four rooms are as useful as a garage for the current Vendors, however they may be ideal for conversion to introduce further usable living space such as; Play rooms, guest suites, an independent basement flat, home office, studio, library or home gym. Currently the basement is accessed from the back garden but there is space in a disused corridor in the house that would be perfect for the introduction of an internal staircase if required.

The property is a moment walk from the mainline train station to London and is amongst a wealth of key amenities in Stowmarket. At the front it overlooks the Church providing a pleasant outlook, whilst to the rear it has off road parking in a gate driveway for up to four cars. The garden is a typical town centre outside space, it is low maintenance and somewhere perfect for enjoying the warmer summer months. It has a generous patio seating area and two brick built stores.

Internally the property is naturally bright and incredibly versatile. The vendors take great pride in offering their home in a clean and presentable fashion with decorative finishings that remain in keeping with the tradition of the building. The property has a year old gas boiler and beautiful sash style double glazing throughout.
