Wildflower Eco Lodges – A Sustainable Sanctuary

Thoughtfully constructed with eco-friendly materials, each lodge has been meticulously designed to provide a harmonious balance between natural living and contemporary convenience. Built using timber frames and strawbale walls, secured with hazel spikes, and sealed with lime render, the lodges are insulated to a high standard while blending effortlessly with the surrounding landscape. Timber cladding on two sides adds to their aesthetic charm, while sedum roofs, double glazing, and solar panels reinforce a commitment to sustainable living. Each lodge is equipped with a log-burning stove, ensuring warmth and cosiness in all seasons.
