Low & Partners are delighted to present Forsyth Drive Oldmeldrum — a spacious and versatile 4-bedroom home in the heart of Oldmeldrum, offering generous internal proportions and a flexible layout. With a large downstairs office that could readily serve as a fifth bedroom, this property suits families seeking room to grow. Set within a well-established residential area, it combines practical living with easy access to local schools, shops, and commuter routes across Aberdeenshire.

A well-proportioned rear-facing living room, offering a peaceful outlook and a generous sense of space. Natural light filters in through wide panoramic windows, drawing attention to the garden beyond and creating a seamless indoor-outdoor connection. The clean flooring and neutral décor provide a calm, versatile backdrop, while the simple layout allows for easy furnishing. Whether used for quiet evenings or family gatherings, this room delivers comfort and practicality in equal measure.

A spacious and well-appointed kitchen diner, combining practical layout with classic style, creates a warm, traditional feel, while the tiled splashback adds texture without overpowering the space. The standout Rangemaster cooker sits proudly beneath a matching
