Bellingham, Northumberland, is a village nestled in the scenic North Tyne valley, offering a welcoming community atmosphere and a beautiful rural setting. Surrounded by countryside and located close to the Northumberland National Park, it's an ideal location for those who enjoy outdoor pursuits, with a network of walking and cycling trails, a well-regarded golf course, and easy access to the area's famous dark skies for stargazing.

The village is well equipped with local amenities that support everyday life. There's a Co-op supermarket for groceries, a pharmacy, post office, petrol station, and a variety of independent shops, including a country store. Residents also benefit from health services provided by the Bellingham Practice and a local library situated in Manchester Square. The Bellingham Heritage Centre, located at the former railway station, offers a window into the area's rich cultural and industrial history and regularly hosts events and exhibitions.

Education is well catered for through Bellingham Primary School and Bellingham Middle School & Sports College, both located on Redesmouth Road. The two schools work closely together as part of the Bellingham Federation and provide a supportive and inclusive environment for local children. Early years care is also available on site, making the village particularly convenient for young families.

Transport connections link Bellingham to nearby towns and cities, with regular bus services to Hexham and a Saturday service to Newcastle. While there is no current railway station in the village, road links are straightforward, and the scenic routes make travelling a pleasant experience. Local taxi services are also available.

For shopping and leisure, Bellingham provides a good selection of essentials locally, while the market town of Hexham is within easy reach for a wider range of shops, restaurants, and services. Altogether, Bellingham offers a wonderful balance of rural charm, strong local services, and a friendly, community-led lifestyle in one of Northumberland's most picturesque settings.
