Herstmonceux:

Herstmonceux is a small, semi-rural village in the heart of the South East.

The name is derived from the Anglo-Saxon "hyrst" meaning "wooded hill" and the name of the Monceux family, who were Lords of the Manor in the 12th century.

The village is home to Herstmonceux Castle which is one of the oldest brick-built structures still standing today.

The castle dates back to 15th century and is now Grade II listed.

The area also features The Observatory Science centre, which boasts interactive exhibits and was the former home of The Royal Greenwich Observatory.

This picturesque area is truly a gem of the South East.

You'll feel at home with local pubs, shops and independent businesses a plenty.
