EFFICIENTLY CRAFTED HOMES

Each of our two, three and four bedroomed homes has been designed to be as energy efficient as possible without compromising on the high standards of finish and craftsmanship Stonewood have produced in our other award-winning developments.

The secret is in our 'fabric first' approach to design – ensuring the fundamental construction of each home maximises its energy-reducing potential. Each home has an Energy Performance Certificate (EPC) rating of A - the highest a home can be on its energy efficiency.

Every home has solar PV panels seamlessly embedded into its slate-tiled roof, an MEV system, timber frame filled with eco-friendly insulation, highly efficient double glazing, airtight interiors to eliminate draughts and EV Charging.*

*Please talk to a Sales Executive to understand your home's EV Charging details

THE LUNGS OF YOUR HOME

An energy-efficient continuous (MEV) Mechanical Extract Ventilation system designed with multiple extract points to simultaneously draw moisture laden air out of rooms providing a quieter and more efficient system compared to standard extractor fans.

THE FABRIC FIRST APPROACH

At Old Timberyard, building performance is considered within the design from the outset. Energy efficiency is intrinsic to the fabric of your home, meaning your walls and windows take care of your heat conservation.

THE POWER OF THE SUN

The solar PV panels allow you to harness renewable energy from the sun for use around your home. This reduces your reliance on the national grid, lowering the carbon footprint of your home.

RESPONSIBLE BUILDING MATERIALS

The frame of every home is made from FSC certified timber – a renewable building material that locks away carbon for decades to come. The frame's streamlined production and construction processes vastly reduce its environmental impact, lowering the embodied carbon footprint of your home.

BUILDING LASTING COMMUNITIES

A Stonewood Homes development puts people at its core. Thoughtfully designed landscaping offers social spaces that promote neighbour connection, enabling and promoting community and individual well-being.

Communal and recreational areas are strung together with well-placed access points, seamlessly linking the new community to the surrounding area.

Our developments offer an array of housing styles that are in keeping with the local area, giving character and a real sense of place to the new neighbourhoods.
