A striking two-bedroom duplex apartment in the iconic Telephone Exchange on Portobello Road, blending industrial architecture with refined modern design.

Double-height ceilings, exposed brickwork and steel-framed windows create an exceptional sense of space, complemented by a mezzanine study, private parking and porter.

Industrial character and contemporary design combine beautifully at this impressive duplex apartment, set within the landmark Telephone Exchange on Portobello Road.

The open-plan reception and dining area forms the heart of the home - a versatile space for relaxing or entertaining, framed by arching windows and softened by warm timber flooring.

The kitchen is elegantly finished with marble worktops, light wood cabinetry and brushed-gold fittings, complete with integrated Miele appliances and a statement Lofra oven.

Residents benefit from a private covered parking space, weekday porter service, storage room, and the privacy of a gated mews setting, all within the Royal Borough of Kensington & Chelsea.
