Energy Saving Glass

For the Earth

Double Glazing

Double Glazing
(Insulating Laminated)

Insulating Glass

Insulating coated glass reflects heat from the building back into the interior, preventing heat loss and contributing to the comfort of the occupants. Their insulating power can be further enhanced by filling the inter-glass space with noble gas.

Laminated Glass

Laminated safety glass is made up of several sheets of glass separated by one or more plastic films (PVB) so that if it breaks, the pieces remain attached to the film. Depending on its composition, it offers protection against falling out the window and even resists gunfire and explosions.
