Set in an elevated position on the edge of Martinstown, this detached chalet-style home enjoys sweeping countryside views and sits on a substantial plot. The home benefits a triple garage, four double bedrooms and generous proportions throughout. A range of beautiful country walks surround the property in the picturesque hills of Dorset.

The ground floor begins with a front-facing dining room featuring ample space for a range of furniture and rural views. This flows into a light-filled, triple-aspect sitting room with double doors opening to the rear garden. A stone inglenook fireplace and wood-burning stove create a warm & charming focal point. The well-equipped kitchen enjoys ample fitted cabinetry, a range cooker, integrated dishwasher, and wine fridge. A utility room sits adjacent, with rear access and housing the oil-fired boiler.

The remaining ground floor offers two double bedrooms, including the principal with built-in wardrobes and en-suite shower room, plus a separate family bathroom.

Upstairs, a generous landing doubles as a study and leads to two further doubles—one with built-in storage—each enjoying expansive countryside views. A family bathroom with a separate shower completes the layout.

The property enjoys ample parking split across two driveways. There is a substantial gravel forecourt that leads to a triple garage with power. Inside the garages are one large open space and offers versatility as a workshop or more traditional use. The area is surrounded by lawns and landscaped by trees and shrubs creating a diverse green space with ample seating areas to enjoy the sun.

A second driveway leads directly to the residence, offering even more parking. The remaining grounds feature manicured lawns, additional patio areas, a greenhouse, and a variety of mature planting, providing a secluded and established setting.

The county town of Dorchester is within easy reach offering a range of shops, boutiques and transport links.
