The Property

Holters are delighted to introduce to market Christchurch House, in Llawr-Y-Glyn. This former church was originally built in 1882 and after falling into disrepair at the start of the 20th century, it has since been lovingly and immaculately converted into a beautiful semi-detached three bedroom home by successive custodians.

The property is rich in original gothic features throughout, from vaulted ceilings and stone pillars to exposed beams. Not only does this home have great bones, but the current owner, who has extensively redecorated throughout, has an exceptional eye when it comes to design and detail, bringing added flair to the property's interiors.

This very special property has been made only more attractive as a result of its idyllic location. Although semi-detached when you are at Christchurch House, you really do feel secluded from the world and at one with nature due to the sweeping views over the adjoining farmland and hills.

The accommodation is found over two floors with an additional mezzanine level. The entrance hall leads to the spacious main living room on your right, to the dining room and adjoining kitchen in front of you and has stairs to the first floor on your left.

The living room, as with much of the house, is brimming with original features and impressive stonework. The main focus of the room is a large hearth complete with log-burner – perfect for cosy winter nights. French windows from the living room open into the sun-room, which links you to rear patio terrace and traditional country kitchen which is pleasantly light and airy due to dual aspect windows. The dining room can accommodate a large table making it perfect for entertaining.

As you make your way upstairs, you pass the unforgettable large stained glass window which floods technicolour light across the galleried landing in the morning sun. On the first floor you will find the three main bedrooms, one of which is currently being used as a home office, as well as the gorgeous remodelled bathroom. Throughout this floor, the attention to detail and unique character of this property really come into force.

A further set of stairs lead to the multi-use mezzanine floor, ideal for additional guest accommodation.

If you have been wowed by the interior of Christchurch House, just wait until you explore the gardens – again completely re-landscaped by the current owner over the last few years. Complete with sun patio, lawns, gravelled areas, established trees and outdoor entertaining space, this really is the perfect space to enjoy a beautiful summers day. There is a large practical shed and on the other side of the footbridge, the property's two designated parking spaces.

If you are looking for the ultimate slice of escapology we would unreservedly recommend a viewing of this fabulous, heritage rich property.

The Location

Nestled in the rolling hills of Powys, Llawr-y-Glyn is a picturesque rural hamlet that offers an idyllic escape from the bustle of modern life. Surrounded by lush green pastures, ancient woodlands, and sweeping valleys, it's a location that perfectly captures the charm and serenity of the Welsh countryside.

This peaceful village is ideal for those seeking a slower pace of life, with scenic walking trails, wildlife-rich landscapes, and breathtaking views right on the doorstep. Llawr-y-Glyn is well known for its close-knit community and traditional character, making it a wonderful place to put down roots or enjoy a country retreat.

Despite its rural setting, Llawr-y-Glyn benefits from good transport links to nearby market towns such as Newtown and Llanidloes, and is 7 miles from Caersws Train Station.

Llanidloes is packed with amenities including a dentists, Medical Centre, cottage hospital, Primary School, Secondary School with Welsh and English language streams, pubs, cafes, take-aways and a wide range of shops ranging from butchers / fishmongers / bakeries / greengrocers to an independent book shop and artisanal boutiques. There are well supported cricket, football and rugby clubs the latter of which plays host to the ever growing Heart of 7s – Wales’ largest sports and music festival.

For anyone interested in pursuing outdoor activities the opportunities are endless. Llawr-Y-Glyn is 4 miles from the Llyn Clywedog Dam, a 615 acre reservoir built on the head waters of the river Severn in the late sixties, offering scenic walking and cycling routes as well as trout fishing through the local Angling Club and 9 miles from the Hafren Forest with a further of walking trails to waterfalls and the source of the River Severn.
