LAUNDRY COTTAGE

A charming, comfortable family home with Victorian origins in a private setting, with a fabulous rural outlook of garden, grounds and countryside beyond, near the picturesque rural hamlet of Froxfield Green. Laundry Cottage is built in a vernacular style and has been extensively adapted by the current owners to create a delightful rural family home. There is ample scope for further development if desired.

Accommodation is versatile according to family and generational needs, with ample space for entertaining and comfortable day-to-day family living. This features a well-proportioned sitting/reception room, a homely open plan kitchen/living room at the heart of the house, a study, a large versatile vaulted-ceiling recreation room (suitable for use as 2nd reception/ dining room, games/party room, convertible back to an indoor swimming pool if desired), and an inter-connected, 1-bedroom annexe (5th bedroom) with its own living space, kitchen, bathroom and separate entrance (currently run successfully as a short term holiday let/ B&B).

Four bedrooms are at first floor, including a main bedroom suite with dressing room and ensuite bathroom. There is a separate family bathroom, and all rooms have lovely garden and rural outlooks.

OUTSIDE

The house is enveloped by extensive garden and amenity space on level ground, with lawns, fruit trees, pond, a croquet/ badminton space, wooded copses for children to explore, and several interconnecting paddocks for grazing livestock or to keep horses/ponies at home. There is a lovely south-facing terrace behind the house, ideal for outdoor summer evenings, and a further terrace with a large wood-fired pizza oven and barbeque complex for outdoor entertaining.

The mix of gardens, paddocks, woods, pond, hedgerows, and wildflower patches provides a rich habitat attracting diverse wildlife. Overall, this is a peaceful, self-contained environment of about 4.91 acres (1.98ha).

There is an oak-framed enclosed double garage adjacent to the house. This is currently used as a sourdough bakery, but it would be suitable for any such enterprise or could revert to garage use if desired. The converted stable block adjacent to the main paddock currently accommodates a generous functioning workshop and storage space and could revert to stable use if desired.

The house and grounds are set back from a country lane, surrounded by farmland with no adjacent domestic properties, minimal road noise and dark skies.

The house is not Listed and has scope for further extension. Our clients have commissioned a specialist planning consultant to prepare a Planning and Development Appraisal which sets out local policy guidelines with regards to what developments/ extensions should be permitted under current policy. They have also commissioned an architect to sketch an informal option for further extension of the house to provide five first floor bedrooms and an extension to the kitchen, copy information can be provided on request.
