"Once I saw the big tree lined street, the long private garden and the period features I knew it was the place for me. I was only meant to stay a year or 2 but couldn't find anywhere I'd rather be so have spent the last decade turning it into the best home it could be. I've loved peeling back the layers of nearly 150 years of history and bringing out as many of the original features as possible whilst making them fit with more modern living."
