GUIDE PRICE £400,000

A rare opportunity to acquire a pair of semi-detached cottages located in the centre of a sought-after village. The Cottage and The Nook back onto the grounds of Sheriff Hutton and enjoy uninterrupted views of the castle ruins.

Both cottages are in need of modernisation and improvement, but offer good potential, either in their present form, or perhaps as a single detached cottage, subject to securing any necessary consents. Each property benefits from uPvc double-glazing, oil-fired central heating and gardens. The Nook has the advantage of a driveway and an attached single garage, which could potentially be converted to additional accommodation.

Sheriff Hutton is a sought-after village occupying an elevated position between the Howardian Hills and the Vale of York and is easily recognised by the ruins of its tenth century, Medieval castle. The village benefits from a range of amenities, including a village shop and post office, primary school and pub. The City of York is approximately 10 miles south, with its mainline railway station from where London can be reached in less than 2 hours. Around 8.5 miles north-east is the market town of Malton, which in recent years garnered a reputation as Yorkshire's food capital and offers excellent shopping and leisure facilities.
