Alley House Sugar Street, Macclesfield, Cheshire SK11 0SG

Alley House has its origins extending back to the mid-18th Century but later additions have transformed the property into the splendid family home that it now is. Its location is a delight, being at the very heart of the village of Rushton, a traditional and friendly farming community surrounded by splendid countryside and yet within a 15-minute drive of the centre of Macclesfield and its extensive facilities with Congleton and Leek, also a short drive away.

Originally serving as the local village bakery until the 1970s, this house is steeped in history and exudes character and warmth, making it a truly unique find. The accommodation is warmed by oil-fired central heating and has double glazing, both in uPVC and timber, which is complemented by more traditionally styled modern sash windows. The accommodation provides several alternatives and a welcome degree of versatility for today's family, there being the accepted reception rooms of Lounge and Dining Room, both of which have exposed stonework with the former having a splendid exposed stone chimney breast with cast iron multi-fuel burner. In addition to that, is a splendid 23' long Sun Room, a snug that adjoins the Kitchen, and a shower room, whilst accessed from the outside is an excellent Office space. On the first floor, there are four double bedrooms and a family bathroom.

One of Rushton Spencer's main appeals is the strong community feel that surrounds the area, with many local groups providing a good level of local support. The village is located on the Gritstone Trail, the Dane Valley Way, and the Staffordshire Way. There is also a walking/cycle track from Rushton to Leek alongside Rudyard Lake.

Sitting in the valley of the River Dane, the village is surrounded by many areas of outstanding beauty. Notable among these are Gun Hill, Lud's Church, The Roaches, Tegs Nose, The Cloud, Rudyard Lake, and Tittesworth Water, to name but a few. Macclesfield Forrest is a few miles to the north, with the Goyt valley close by. This is a ramblers and cyclists' paradise, with many friendly local hostelrys offering excellent food and ales.

The location offers the best of both worlds: it is a truly rural village with a close community spirit, yet the towns of Macclesfield, Congleton, and Leek are all within a short drive, offering their various transport links, useful amenities, and shopping facilities. Offstead has also described the local school as 'Outstanding'.

Alley House is situated just over 8 miles to the south of Macclesfield. Proceed in a southerly direction along the A523 towards Leek. Proceed through the village of Bosley and arrive in the village of Rushton Spencer after approximately 15 minutes from leaving Macclesfield. Turn left at the Royal Oak public house and immediately left into Sugar Street. Alley House is the first property on the right-hand side.
