Crossparks
Dartmouth

Property Description

Guide Price £700,000 - £750,000. Nestled high above Dartmouth in a coveted location, this postwar detached house, originally constructed for a doctor's practice in 1952, underwent substantial expansion in the 1990s, maintaining its charming sloping roofs that evoke a nostalgic sense of an earlier era. With a captivating history marked by two ownerships, the property exudes character and allure. Approaching the house, a paver driveway leads to a welcoming arch porch, inviting guests into a ground-floor hallway adorned with parquet flooring and elegant wooden and glass doors. The kitchen and spacious breakfast room, illuminated by windows on three walls, offer a bright and inviting atmosphere. The lounge, bathed in natural light throughout the day, features sliding glass windows that seamlessly connect to a terrace and garden, complete with a preserved coal fireplace for cozy gatherings during the festive season. An archway leads to a sizable dining room and sunroom, providing picturesque views of the meticulously tended landscape gardens. Repurposed as a study, the former doctor's consulting room adds versatility to the layout, while compact wet room facilities at the rear ensure convenience. Upstairs, the master bedroom boasts an ensuite wet room and distant views, with additional bedrooms and a communal bathroom providing comfortable accommodation.
