Harpenden is a town in the City of St Albans district, in the county of Hertfordshire. It is bordered by the neighbouring villages of Redbourn & Wheathampstead. Harpenden is known as a commuter town, with frequent and direct rail connections into London St Pancras. The M1 runs in close proximity. The closest access to the M1 is Junction 9 & 10 with convenient links to all London airports. Harpenden is famed for its exceptional schooling attracting good/outstanding Ofsted.

A notable feature of Harpenden is its abundance of beautiful parks and commons. The central area of Harpenden, known locally as "the village" is characterised by Church Green, Leyton Green and the High Street Greens, which give the town its provincial feel. The town is renowned for its local sporting facilities including golf, tennis, rugby, football and cricket clubs, catering for all ages and abilities. In addition there is an abundance of restaurants, coffee shops and boutiques setting the town apart.
